JAMES S. YOUNGER, SECRETARY

At the City Hall Saturday night a Bryan and Kern Club was organized by several leading Democrats of the district. The organization culminated into a most enthusiastic meeting, seventy-five members being enrolled.

Campaign plans were discussed and decision made to hold a meeting regularly every week on Saturday night. Resolutions were adopted as follows:

Whereas, The Democrats of the Cloverport district having met to organize a Bryan and Kern Club approve the call made by the county chairman for this purpose. Therefore be it

Resolved, That we pledge our allegiance to Democratic principles set forth in the platform adopted by the party at Denver in convention assembled, and reaffirm our belief in the integrity, political and private character and matchless ability of Wm. Jennings Bryan for President of the United States. We also endorse the selection and nomination of John W. Kern, of Indiana, for Vice President, and believe he is in every way worthy to be Mr. Bryan's associate on the National ticket.

Resolved, That we endorse the record of Hon. Ben Johnson, our efficient Congressman, and urge him to continue his faithful service to the party and to the people of the district.

K. P.'S DEFEATED.

Last Wednesday afternoon the strong K. P. Niss from Hawesville met defeat at the hands of the local lodge in an interesting game by the scores of 4 to 12. Furrow and Carr did the twirling. Epley's batting was a feature of the game. He swatted out one, three and two, two-base hits. The local lodge will go to Hawesville today for the second game. The Hawesville team is preparing to give them a warm reception.

Dr. Simons Honored.

Just recently Dr. A. A. Simons was indirectly offered the position as First Assistant in the Hopkinsville Asylum, and was assured of getting it if he so desired. On account of his practice here, Dr. Simons did not entertain any idea of accepting the place.

Nice Addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hendrick are having their country home, near town, handsomely improved. They have had a dining room, kitchen and porch added. Mr. Fallon has superintended the work.

WAS BRECKENRIDGE'S HONORED CITIZEN.

Henry E. DeHaven Falls Asleep
In Death As Night Dawned
Sunday Evening.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OF AGE.

Henry E. DeHaven is dead. He died at 7:15 Sunday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. R. Moorman, near Glendale, where he was living.

It is not necessary to give an obituary of Mr. DeHaven in the columns of the News, the story of his life is known well to every citizen in Breckenridge and the counties surrounding, not because he was eighty-five years of age, but for the reason that his life reached out to others in so many helpful ways. He was a man among men and was as firm as a nail driven in a wall. His principles were high, his ideals were beautiful and he seemed to be all that humanity could expect of a man.

He was born September 23, 1823 in this county. In 1857 he married Miss Sallie Wortham. Only two children, Mrs. W. R. Moorman, of Glendale, and W. I. DeHaven, of Millwood, survive.

Mr. DeHaven was the oldest member of the Masonic lodge at Hardinsburg and had also been a member of the Baptist church for twenty years.

The funeral of the deceased was held Sunday (Monday) at the Baptist church Monday, conducted by the Rev. James Lewis and the interment took place at Leitchfield yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The deceased was laid to rest near his wife, who died four years ago. The honorary pall-bearers were: Judge Miller, Hon. G. W. Beard, John P. Havell, Sr., J. F. Owen, J. H. Pile and Dr. R. F. Dempster. The active pall-bearers were: T. J. Moore, Jesse Whitworth, Amos Board, Franklin Kincheol, Arthur Smith and W. C. Chemoan.

ANDREW CRAWFORD

Is Not For Open Saloons—Makes Decided Statement.

Editor Breckenridge News,

Dear Sir:—I am informed that it is currently reported that I am in favor of an open saloon. I do not know what I may have said in a moment of despatch, but I want it to be distinct and understood that I never have, or do I ever expect to vote for an open saloon. Of two evils choose the least. I would rather have a dozen "blind tigers" than one licensed saloon.

Yours truly,
Andrew Crawford,
Steubensport, Ky., Sept. 21, 1908.

Mr Hendrick Ill.

Luther Hendrick one of the oldest citizens in town is ill at his home on the hill.

Warfield Hendricks, of Mike arrived here Friday to see him.

Mrs. Whitehead before her marriage was Miss Kate Wosen a charming young woman. She has visited friends in this City and is well known here.

Miss Balee Weds.

Mrs. Thos Tousey has received an invitation to the marriage of Miss Mamie Balee and Mr. Thos Allison Ogilvie. The wedding will take place at Mrs. Eades, home in Chattanooga September 28. Mrs. Balee is deaf and dumb and remarkably accomplished.

BEAUTIFUL PARTIES.

Miss Grace Mae Plank has been honored during the last few days with some, if not the prettiest parties, that have ever been extended a bride in this city. Accounts of them are as follows:

Thursday afternoon a fruit shower was given by Mrs. James Younger and Miss Louise Babage. After the guests arrived at Mrs. Younger's they were invited across the lawn by Miss Babage to a Heart Hunt at her home. It took place in the parlor which was gorgeously decorated in autumn foliage. The colonial mantel was banked in huge bunches of golden rod and thirteen sun flowers hung from the chandelier. At the end of the string tied to each blossom was a hidden heart and each guest was directed to unwind the thread until she had found the treasure on which was written her fortune. Miss Plank luckily found the heart with the ring, Miss Eva Plank, the money heart, Miss Ray Heyser, the thimble and Miss Marion Bowmy, the bride veil. The needle. The bride was gladdened by many cans of rare fruit which she received just before the refreshments were served in the dining room at the Younger home.

"Weather forecast for Friday, September eighteenth. Miscellaneous showers from three to five o'clock P. M. followed by sunshine and fair weather like Gracious Mae", was the invitation issued by Miss Jennie Mabel Harris and accepted by quite a number of Miss Plank's best friends. The occasion was one of continuous showers of pleasures during the entire party. The same bill sold was played in the library and the bride was soon purposefully caught. Within a few minutes after the kerchief was placed over her eyes, she was showered with exquisite gifts. About five o'clock the guests were invited into the large spacious dining room where an elegant fruit luncheon of two courses was served. The table was most attractive, Japanese parasols and new rubber boots occupied the center. The place cards were paper parasols and the idea of a shower was uniquely carried out in every detail.

Mrs. Shelby Conrad complimented Miss Plank Saturday afternoon with a kitchen shower. The entertainment was very novel and furnished much pleasure to every one present as well as the guest of honor. Mrs. Conrad was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Sam Conrad, Mrs. Ridgebury, Mrs. Wicklie DeHaven and Miss Kate Ogilvie. The guests almost filled a book with recipes for the bride, besides giving her many nice presents. Miss Plank, assisted by her friends, was kept busy for some time hunting clothes pins and to each pin was tied a spoon, a pan or something very convenient for the kitchen and laundry. Just before the girls made their departure most delicious ices and cakes were handed them.

Miss Mamie DeHaven was a charming hostess yesterday morning to a reception at her home on the hill, giving complimentary to Miss Plank. The hours from 10 to 12 o'clock were most pleasantly spent by the honored guest and her friends.

TURN PIKE READY

Dr. Newsom Spends Money and
Time on Road Way Between
This City And County Seat.

Improvements on the Hardinsburg Turnpike have now been completed and the present condition of the road is splendid for traveling.

The best method of improving the pike was used and the repairing that was done has been commended.

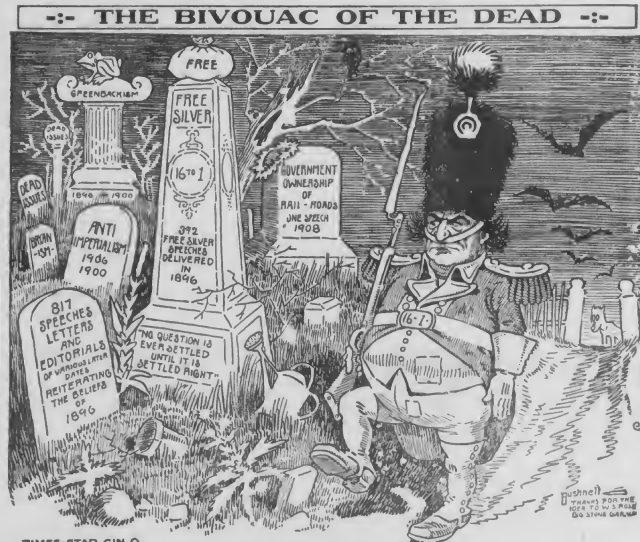

The road in the future will be well cared for and Breckenridge county will have the best kind of a pike.

Dr. Newsom has expended not a few hundred dollars to improve the roads and the results have been decidedly good.

EXQUISITE MILLINERY.

Mrs. James Cordrey's Millinery
Goods For This Season Will Excel Past Exhibits.

Saturday night Mrs. James Cordrey returned home after spending several days in Cincinnati buying fall millinery. She was assisted by Mr. Harding, who is one of the best known hat drummers from Cincinnati.

Mrs. Cordrey says she did not buy as large a bill as usual, but her hats this season are a better class, better material and the most reliable styles. Her pattern hats are exquisite, and some of them very gorgeous. The prices will be most reasonable, and each hat was given personal attention.

The friends of Miss Ashley, who had charge of Mrs. Cordrey's trimming department last spring, will be delighted to learn that she will arrive here this week. Her beautiful taste and artistic talent was quite pleasing to Mrs. Cordrey's many customers.

Capt. McClery Here.

Capt. T. F. McClery, who has charge of a Government boat on the Ohio for six months, was at this port Monday. He was here in the interest of making a contract with the merchants to run a boat regularly between Leavenworth and Tell City especially for them and their business. As yet he has not made any definite plans.

Fred Fraize went to Cincinnati Monday.

Services in the Trimming
Department at Mrs.

Polk's Store.

The very best opportunities will be given to the women of Cloverport and Breckenridge county for procuring their fall and winter hats by Mrs. Lucy Polk, who has just returned home.

Mrs. Polk has been in Chicago for several days where she bought her millinery goods for the coming season. Her stock contains the most exclusive and beautiful styles.

Miss Brophy arrived from Chicago Saturday night to take charge of Mrs. Polk's trimming. She is an expert trimmer, and Mrs. Polk made a strenuous effort to get her for Cloverport.

NEED OF GOOD ROADS.

Part of a Transporting Machine—Their Neglect Mars the Whole.

"To appreciate the necessity for good roads in America, one must consider the road as part of a transporting machine. The machine is composed by a horse, a wagon and a road. If any one of the three is poor, the machine is poor and ineffective. Only a small load can be drawn, and that slowly. We have been spending thousands of dollars building up the breed of horses and improving wagons and have allowed the roads to run down and offset our costly upbuilding. Is it not time we stopped and considered the common sense course, to build up all three simultaneously?"

This unique presentation of the necessity of good roads was offered by Horatio S. Earle, the candidate for governor of Michigan on the Republican ticket, to the autoists, roadmakers and farmers which recently held a convention at Buffalo, and it aptly fits the case, making a profound impression on the farmers present. "The same situation exists when the motive power of the vehicle is furnished by an engine," he continued, "so that autoists and farmers are at one on the good roads question. The road is the need a perfect road to accomplish all it is capable of accomplishing. Then let us be sensible and provide the possibility of getting the best out of it."

The antiquation of the farmer to the automobilist is entirely unwarranted. There are some farmers who are as offensive as some automobilists. The product of the automobile factories of Michigan sold for $10,000,000 in a year, and 75 per cent came from outside the state from the rich and well to do. It went to stockholders, bank employees and through them to the stores and farmers. The industry made possible by the users of automobiles has meant a great deal to the state of Michigan, and it means as much to the farmers of many other states."

MANKATO'S GOOD ROAD.

Minnesota City Has Made a Modest and Durable Pavement.

Mankato, Minn., has solved the problem of finding a durable pavement at small expense and one that can be used on steep grades as readily as on a level surface.

First the driveway was narrowed to thirty feet, curbed, guttered and boulevard. Then it was excavated to the depth of six inches and surfaced. Five inches of dry crushed limestone one and a half to two inches in diameter was put on and rolled down with a steam roller.

Rolling tar from the local gas works was applied until the entire surface was covered. Then the Cement Age, a layer of broken stone an inch to an inch and a quarter in diameter, mixed with coarse gravel, was applied on the surface in proportion of three parts of stone to one of gravel. This was first mixed dry on a platform and then thoroughly mixed with hot tar and applied on the surface two inches thick and tamped into place to conform with the surface of the street.

Dry domestic cement was then applied to the surface, and the street was again rolled. Then a coating of sand was applied and the roller again used. The pavement was allowed to stand for two weeks before the street was thrown open to traffic.

The cost was 30 cents a lineal foot to the property owners on each side of the street or, rather, would have been had the entire cost been assessed against them. The street had a practically waterproof pavement six inches thick, and it is impossible for the elements to attack the surface. The pavement has now stood two winters and shows not the slightest wear. It gives off no dust in summer, although it is not sprinkled.

Automobiles and Good Roads.

The automobile has become the most important factor in the upbuilding of our public highways and has led to the reconstruction of more miles of good roads than any other conveyance ever introduced. While it may be true that it is more destructive of highways than any other vehicle, it is equally true that automobilism is only pleasurable under the best roads man can construct. Thus it must and shall be that the more automobiles we use the better will our roads become for all classes of vehicles and traffic.

How Oil Saved the Rock Roads.

"I am busy day and night repairing washouts in the rock roads because of the heavy rains," Oscar Koehler, county surveyor, said the other morning at Kansas City. "There is no doubt in my mind that the oiling of the rock roads is a great economy. There has not been a single washout in the roads that were oiled. The oil serves to pack the gravel so that it resists the erosion of the flood waters."

TURKISH ARMY OFFICERS.

They Are Neither Loved Nor Respected by Their Men.

Very seldom if he can help it does the Turkish army officer appear on horseback, and when not on duty he looks upon his horse merely as a method of locomotion. He has no affection or understanding for the horse. The superior officers have no horses of their own, and, being generally bad riders and without military qualities which would raise them in the estimation of their men, they are neither loved nor respected by them. Married officers keep entirely to themselves, such things as invitations to one another's houses being unknown, and the only occasions upon which officers meet together at all are on the days of assembly, when they are called together by the sultan's birthday or accession celebrations.

The pay of the lower ranks is as small as that of the superior officers is high. The young cavalry officer who makes a good impression on his duty into the service soon falls to pieces through want of occupation either of mind or body. The greater part of the morning and evening he sits over his coffee and cards or dominoes. There are but few newspapers, and those that do exist are so severely censored that they contain little but weather statistics, gazettes and announcements of the best of decorations.

The Turkish officer really thoroughly enjoys a gramophone. Instruments playing the waltzes and reproducing the music hall songs of all the cities of Europe are the only amusements which chiefly because they make music without any personal trouble.—Chicago News.

Where Bullwits Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me more good than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well."—50c at Severs Drug Co.

A Poor Witness.

A negro who was accused of larceny and had been making a good defense called as a witness at his trial an old negro to testify that his reputation was good. She looked like a picture of a mammy from the books. "And what is his reputation for truth and honesty?" asked the lawyer.

"Good, mhm; good," she said, nodding her head emphatically.

"Suppose," said the assistant district attorney, "that he told you that he had $1,000 in the bank, would you believe him?"

"I suitably would not," she replied, stamping her foot. The jury convicted the negro.—New York Sun.

OLD VILLAGE LOCKUP.

Quaint Structures For Confinement of Rogues and Vagabonds.

Several villages in the midlands possess in more or less ruined state their old watch lockups, commonly known as roundhouses. Bredon, a Leicestershire village, close to the South Derbyshire border, possesses its "lockup," a quaint stone building eighteen feet high and eight feet six inches in diameter inside. The walls are fifteen inches thick. The door is of stout oak, studded with many large iron nails.

The lock is very strong, and the keyhole is covered with an iron plate, which itself has to be unlocked by a spanner before the door key can be inserted. Ventilation is afforded by small holes punched in an iron plate six inches by seven, fixed in the center of the door. There is no window.

At Worthington, the next village to Bredon, the old lockup is a seven sided brick building, built in need of restoration, an opportunity for archaeologists which it is hoped will not be missed. Both at Bredon and Worthington these dilapidated prisons are on the ruins adjacent to the pound, or phild, so that the constable had conveniently side by side the strayed cattle and any human rogues or vagabonds he had charged. There are similar old lockups at Sonally and Ticknall, two villages close to Leicestershire.—Sheffield (England) Telegraph.

He Who Laughs Last.

A very fat lady got on the train and as she was taking the seat in front of two young men the would be funny man said: "Look at that fat woman in front of us. She's been eating warty." And this joke they both enjoyed hugely. At the next station the joker got off, but as he was passing the fat lady she stopped him and said, "Young man, if you had eaten more warty you would have had better railing and been better bred." And this joke the other passengers are still repeating.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BLUSH IF YOU CAN.

It is a Sign of an Active Brain, Declares a Scientist.

Sir Arthur Mitchell, K. C. B., of Edinburgh, who knows much that is strange about dreams, laughter and other commonplace human characteristics, has advanced the astounding theory that blushing is an achievement of which every one who can blush should be proud.

He says it requires brains to blush. Idiots cannot blush; neither can animals. Sir Arthur calls attention to the fact that tiny infants will not blush, although they learn to at an early age—just as soon, in fact, as the brain begins to exercise its functions. In blushing, he says, the mind always must be affected. It is always and only a bodily expression of a mental state.

It is a natural thing for a blusher to say that he had tried not to blush. No individual blusher of his own free will. The blusher always without call instantly acquiesces and vanishes almost as quickly. Neither for its coming nor its going is there any exercise of volition. It is controlled, Sir Arthur says, solely by the brain and is a positive sign that there is an active brain there.—New York World.

Boissier's High Priced Autograph.

A good Boissier-Renan anecdote is told by a French paper. One day Bois arrived at Renan's home with a heaving face, saying: "Now I'll tell you the reason. There were three faults in the spelling of your letter, which is now lying here on my writing table. A friend of mine was at the auction and made a higher bid for the letter after noting the artificial gems that adorned your prose. He brought it to me in order that I might return it to you instead of reaching the public, which might get a bad impression of the accomplishments of members of the French academy."

Got Near It.

A primary teacher was presenting to her class selections from the story of Ilwatha preparatory to taking up the "Ilwatha Primer." The story was prefaced by a few remarks in regard to the poet and his love for children. In reviewing the lesson she asked:

"How many remember the name of the poet who wrote this story?"

"Up went many hands. 'You may tell us, Sarah,' added the teacher, noticing the little one wildly waving her hand in her intense eagerness to respond.

"Mr. Longlegs," said the child, with evident pride.—Lippincott's.

THE SCOURING RUSH.

A Quaker Plant That Can Be Changed Into a Mineral.

The scouring rush, Equisetum hiemale, is an interesting plant which has been put to practical use. In old times its hollow, jointed stems were in great repute for kitchen cleaning purposes. The stems are hollow and are easily separated at the joints. If one would satisfy himself as to the peculiar property that first suggested the use of this rush for scouring purposes he has only to draw a joint across the edge of his teeth to find it like a file.

A very pretty chemical experiment is frequently made with the rush. If one takes a small piece of nitric acid and into which any ordinary lead is immersed, it will quickly see it dissolve, literally eaten up by the acid. But what does the scouring rush do under such circumstances?

Immediately upon its introduction to the acid the sizzling process begins. The green pulp of the stem is gradually consumed, the tube, however, still retaining its shape, becoming finer and paler in color until after a few hours the specimen is transformed into a pure white asbestos-like column which defies any further attack from the acid.

On taking it from the acid and washing it carefully in running water the operator holds in his hands a beautiful tube of pure, glassy diatom, an object of great microscopic beauty of construction. The scouring rush is no longer a vegetable, but a mineral, and in observing its skeleton of stone the secret of its utility as a scouring brush is easily understood.—New York Tribune.

Had a Crook Call.

Mrs. Aida L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughn, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough, and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it, and three bottles affected a complete cure. The lame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold by Severs Drug Co. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Gastronomic.

"If you could take your choice, what would you have to eat every day?"

"Well, ah, I expect I'd have chicken for breakfast and watermelon for dinner."

"And what would you have for supper?"

"Lawsy, boss, I didn't know you was wintering here. I expect that watermelon to be 'nuff to last till bedtime!"—Washington Star.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1908.

OF GREAT IMPORTANCE.

There will be a very important election held in this county next Saturday. A great moral question is to be tried before the people. It is a question vital to all interests and all classes. It should be and is a great privilege, as well as a great duty we have as voters, to say by our vote that we are in favor of casting out the evil of strong drink from our county, our community, our homes and firesides. Men, do you realize how important this election is? Do you realize what it means for your wives, your daughters, your sons and the peace of your families? If you don't, wake up to it. The women and children of this land have borne the burdens of strong drink long enough, and it is time for us who have the power in our ballot to relieve them. They are the burden bearers and the sufferers from the evils of whisky. We men know it—those of us who have our eyes open. Now let us show our manhood next Saturday. Walk to the polls and put in a vote that will lift the sorrows from our women and save our boys. Vote! vote! vote! next Saturday for temperance.

Don't miss an opportunity to help along your neighbor or your community. Put your shoulder to the wheel and help a good thing when you have a chance. You may be getting along all right your self, "whisky," you say, "don't bother you, if people will let it alone, it won't hurt you!" But it does hurt them. It hurts everybody. You have a chance next Saturday to help the poor fellow who hasn't the will-power you have, by taking the evil from him. Help him by your vote. It will make you a better man to help a little now and then for those who live around you. Vote for temperance next Saturday.

No man in this county who knows Mr. Andrew Crawford, of Stephensport, believes for a moment that he ever had a thought much less said that he was in favor of the open saloon. No man in the county stands higher for all that is good and true in man than does Mr. Crawford. For thirty years the News has been going in and out of his home and town and never a word have we heard derogatory to his character. It shows how low down the whisky element gets. It will say or do anything to carry its point. Vote against it next Saturday.

We heard a mighty good young Democrat, born and bred and brought up in the faith, say the other day that things were good enough for him, and he didn't want a change and was going to vote for Taft. And there is a great big silent element that is thinking and intent to do what this young Democratic farmer will do.

The young Democracy is showing itself in this town. It is all right. If you believe a thing, young men, stand for and shout for it. We are sorry to see them that, losing their good time and energies on a lost cause.

Bryan is over in New York this week shaking hands with Murphy, the Tammany Tiger and drawing big crowds. He did this same thing in 1896 and 1900.

Ben Johnson and the Fourth District.

It will hardly be possible for Congressman Ben Johnson to make a decisive canvass in the Fourth district this fall. He is chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee and is now actively engaged in the campaign in Kentucky. He will devote most of his time to the interests of Mr. Bryan and the ticket; therefore, he cannot actively push his own candidacy. The Sun believes that the Democrats of the Fourth district will not permit Mr. Johnson's interests to be neglected. While he is making a fight for the party in Kentucky, we believe that the Democrats in each of the counties of the Fourth district will be active in Mr. Johnson's interests, and that they will not fail to assist him while he is spending his time and energies to increase Mr. Bryan's vote in every section of Kentucky.

Mr. Johnson has made a sacrifice for his party—one that few men would have made, and we are quite sure that the Democrats of the district will be duly appreciative.
It is confidently believed that Mr. Johnson's majority will be the largest ever given a Democrat for Congress in the Fourth district. There are many Republicans who will vote for him realizing that in him they have a safe, brave and energetic representative in Congress—a representative who will look to the interests of all, regardless of party affiliations.

At this time when the farmers of the nation are pleading for just laws at the hands of our Republicans in Congress, it is important that the biggest, best and best men of every State be sent to Washington as the representative of the people. We need men who know how to do things—those things which means the betterment of the masses. Nobody doubts that Mr. Johnson is in that class. It is the ambition of his life to help those who need help.

Both in public and private life his energies, money and time have been spent in an effort to assist people to better conditions—to help them over the rough ways of life. Ask any man or woman in Bardonia to tell you something about Ben Johnson's efforts to "build up" in the interest of the people and you will be told that for thirty years he has made a determined, honest and manly fight to bring about results which would help the people to overcome obstacles and to turn them toward progress, contentment and happiness.

What a happy day it will be when both houses of our national congress are filled with such men. Inevitably if that day ever come, it will be a day of equal rights to all men exclusive privileges to none—a day in which the honest brains of the American farmer and the American laborer will be as much thought of as the talented millions of Wall street.

Let the Democrats of every county of the Fourth district increase Mr. Johnson's majority by determined tireless work. He deserves an increased majority, not only because he is now spending his time in working for the national ticket, but because he is now, day after day, always spending his time in working for people.—Springfield Sun.

The Tariff and the Farmer.

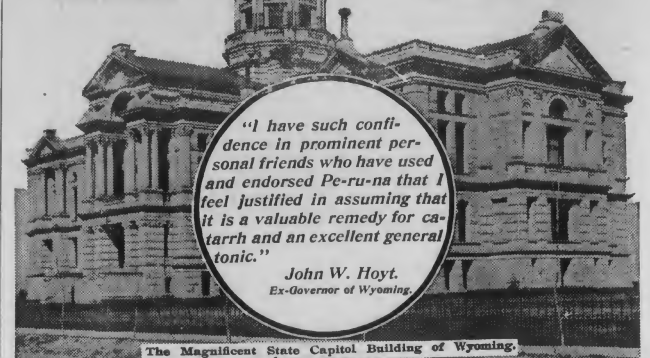

The farmer does not agree with Candidate Bryan that the Tariff is such a vicious affair, for it protects him from competition with cheaper outside products.
These are some of the duties which have been of great advantage to the farmer that Mr. Bryan does not approve of:

Cattle, if less than one year old, $5 per head; all other cattle if valued at more than $11 per head, $3.75 per head; if valued at more than $11 per head, 25¢ per cent. ad valorem.
Swine, $1.50 per head.
Horses valued at $150 or less per head, $50 per head; if valued at over $150, 25 per cent. ad valorem.
Sheep, one year old or over, $1.50 per head; less than one year old, 75 cents per head.
Now, he who raises live animals for sale—cattle, swine, horses or sheep for the market—is protected from the competition of our Canadian neighbors to the extent shown in these schedules.
When it comes to the produce this is what we find in the Dingley law as a means of keeping the home market for our own farmers:
Corn, 15 cents per bushel of 50 pounds.
Oats, 15 cents per bushel.
Wheat, 25 cents per bushel.
Butter 6 cents per pound.

EX-Governor of Wyoming Endorses Pe-ru-na.

Other Prominent Americans

Give Pe-ru-na Great Credit.

"I have such confidence in prominent personal friends who have used and endorsed Pe-ru-na that I feel justified in assuming that it is a valuable remedy for catarrh and an excellent general tonic."

John W. Hoyt, Ex-Governor of Wyoming.

The Magnificent State Capitol Building of Wyoming.

LIST OF PROMINENT AMERICANS.

Gen. W. H. Parsons, Confederate Army, ex-State Senator, Texas.
Col. Bailey, of Washington, D. C., Labor Organizations and U. V. L.
Col. Patton, of Washington, D. C., Military and Masonic Orders.
Hon. R. S. Ryan, of Alaska, Ex-Member English House of Parliament.
Congressman C. L. of Alaska, well known on Pacific Slope.

Gen. W. H. Parsons.

Gen. W. H. Parsons is ex-State Senator and ex-Special Judge of the Supreme Court of Texas, also Brigadier General in Confederate Army. In a recent letter from 925 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C., this prominent gentleman says:
"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials as to the efficacy of Peru-na in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the le grippe with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment with this justly celebrated remedy. I feel a decided change for the better after using it only one week. It is especially good in toning up the stomach and has had a decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration."

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of the Veteran Cavalry in a four years' war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merits of Peru-na as a sense of obligation on my part for its wonderful efficacy."

Col. Wm. Bailey, 681 H St., N. E., Washington, D. C., Past Col. Enc. No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and Secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles.

Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peru-na, and his present hearty condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. Washington climate is notoriously bad for kidney and liver troubles, yet by a judicious use of the remedy he is now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.

This brief statement of facts, without exaggeration or hyperbole, appears to tell the whole story, when the Peru-na Company is authorized to use, if it so chooses, believing, as I do, that by so doing it will be for the general good.—Wm. Bailey.

Col. C. L. Patton.

Col. C. L. Patton, 509 T St., N. W., Washington, D. C., a Lieutenant in the Old Guard, an exclusive organization composed of soldiers of distinction who fought in the civil war, and a Thirtieth degree Mason, writes as follows: "I have used Peru-na, and desire to recommend your remedy as an invigorating spring tonic; also one of the best remedies that I ever tried for coughs, colds and catarrhal complaints."

Hon. R. S. Ryan.

Hon. R. S. Ryan, now residing in Nome, Alaska, was formerly a member of the English House of Parliament, and Secretary to the late Irish patriot, Charles Stewart Parnell. His Washington address is New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C. He writes: "I have used Peru-na and can recommend your remedy as a very effective cure for colds and catarrhal complaints."

Hon. Thomas Cale.

Hon. Thomas Cale, elected to Congress from Alaska, is well known on the Pacific slope, where he has resided. His Washington address is 1312 9th St., N. W., Washington, D. C. He writes: "I can cheerfully recommend Peru-na as a very efficient remedy for coughs and colds."

For Thirteen Acres—A Marvelous Harvest Gathered by Scott Knott on His Fields near Webster

A man who makes hay while the sun shines is Scott Knott, who owns a farm of thirteen acres near Webster. From all reports he must reap a little in the moonlight. Mr. Knott has sold $433.78 worth of tobacco, and realized the following amounts from other resources as follows:—Hogs $96.80; Chickens $63.50; Eggs $12.00; Potatoes $96.00; Fruit and Vegetables $18.00; Total amount $647.94; besides a living for a family, self, wife and six children. This is what one can call good farming, intense farming, such as can be done on most any of the farms in Breckenridge County. It proves clearly that it is not the fault of the lands, but it is all the man and the knowing how to work. Mr. Knott has three acres in corn this year that will make him 300 bushels.

Bryan's "Fairness."

In his Des Moines speech last week Mr. Bryan scored the Republicans for imposing a duty of 100 per cent. on oil imported from Russia, the chief competitor in the markets of the world of the Standard Oil Company.
That criticism of Mr. Bryan's presents another example of the fairness of his statesmanship.
He suppressed the fact that the Russian government imposes a duty of 100 per cent. on American oil.
He also suppressed the fact that under our law foreign oil is not duty free from countries where our oil goes in free.

He also suppressed the fact that the Democratic Tariff bill of 1894 imposed a duty of 40 per cent. on foreign oil from any country that imposed a duty on American oil and also suppressed the fact that the Republican Tariff bill made the simple change or fixing the duty at exactly the same rate as any foreign country charged against us.

Mr. Bryan is doing the same as he did in 1896 with his free silver humbug, telling enough of it to stir the prejudice instead of appealing to the understanding of the people.—Webster (S. D.) World.

Hearn as a Creative Artist.

Hearn's creative faculty began when he was a child. He is commonly held to end, with the materials given. Of the creative gift in the sense in which the phrase is applied to the poet he had not a particle. He was not a maker, but a shaper. Dr. Gould puts the matter bluntly when he says, "He had no original thing to say, for he was entirely without creative power and had always to borrow theme and plot." And again: "Clearly and patently it was a mind without creative ability, spring or the desire for it. It was a mind improver by inheritance and by education, by necessity and by training, by poverty internal and external." The truth in these words becomes evident when one recalls the failure as fiction of every one of Hearn's attempts in this field and the fact that his greatest successes were in retouching the ideas of other men.—Forum.

Very Clever.

They tell a story in London of a certain peer who had never before shown the slightest interest in horse racing that he was surprised a young man of his acquaintance by asking him a series of questions which he had never won the Derby. The young man told him, "That was very clever of him," replied the peer. "Was it the first time he tried it?" The young man stared, but said "Yes." "Then I call it very clever of him," replied the noble but incomplete sportsman, "to win the Derby the first time he tried for it."
